

ENS Group – Introduces a complete Email Filtering Solution Service.

The PurusMail Advantage:

Purus: Latin ~ [clean, pure, cleared].

- ▶ Easy to implement – PurusMail can be deployed in less than a week, with no software, hardware or ongoing maintenance. Updates are deployed automatically, with no support required or additional costs.
- ▶ Cost effective and risk free – PurusMail's services are competitively priced and are sold as a predictable monthly subscription. It's easy to implement PurusMail, and as our 99.9% renewal rate proves, our customers are very satisfied.
- ▶ More administrator and end-user control – Email administrators have real-time access to information about mail flow, connections, and email trends, enhancing their ability to manage their enterprise email systems. Some of our customers claim they have more control over their email flow than if they were managing it behind the firewall. This is possible because our solution allows administrators to decide whether to extend the management of the spam filtering solution to the end-user or to manage it on their behalf.
- ▶ Highly secure – PurusMail message processing technology and network architecture have been designed with security in mind. Starting with our message processing architecture and our network layout and access control, PurusMail ensures that customer data is safe and secure. Software processes handle messages in real-time; access between machines is tightly regulated; redundancy across the clusters is deployed to ensure high availability. In addition, PurusMail performs vulnerability assessments to ensure that our measures for securing customer data are state-of-the-art.
- ▶ Extremely Reliable – There are no latency or delivery issues since mail-flow passes through PurusMail data centers in real-time, versus a typical store-and-forward email solution. PurusMail has been in continual operation for four years. Redundant data centers ensure nearly 100% uptime and full disaster recovery capabilities. Every two weeks, PurusMail processes more than one billion messages on behalf of our customers.
